Dear Doctor Grover:

Your decision to retire at this time leaves me with the usual mixed feelings. I am pleased at your good fortune, but regret you must leave the leadership of a fine program established through your efforts of the past 18 years.

I want to thank you for the courtesies you extended me and my staff over these years. I particularly appreciate your understanding and advice in dealing with some of our complex and unorthodox records problems.

It is my hope that your plans for the future will include activities that will continue to influence and strengthen the Archival and Records Management programs in the Federal Government.

Best wishes for a happy and creative retirement.

Sincerely,

CIA Records Administration Officer
